First phase of project under way to allow for £50m expansion

Diggers move in to start work on Orchard Centre

By George Welch

DIGGERS have finally rolled in as highly anticipated work on the £50 million expansion of Didcot's Orchard Centre began this week.

Workmen were seen preparing the site on Monday as barriers were put up ahead of Station Road's transformation into a bus route as part of the expansion project.

By Wednesday afternoon, when the Guardian went to press, fences were put up, benches had been removed from the pavement beside Broadways and diggers and a tipper truck had begun working on site.

But the work is already a week behind schedule as the Guardian was told by G L Hearn, the consultancy firm working alongside developers Hammerson, that work would start on January 23.

The timeframe for the project shows a significant delay from initial planning dates, as a schedule of works for expanding the Orchard Centre, published in May, showed it was supposed to have started on August 1 and due to end in June this year. G L Hearn has denied this was the case.

Buses currently drive along High Street, which is shut to general traf-

Firefighters tackle severe blaze and smoke at farm

By George Welch

A LARGE fire at Goring Heath bellowed "thick acrid smoke" across the Oxfordshire and Berkshire border on Saturday.

The blaze ripped through agricultural buildings at Mount Pleasant Farm in the south Oxfordshire hamlet at 10am.

Residents were advised to stay indoors and shut their windows to avoid contact with the smoke as the weather conditions meant the smoke settled on nearby homes.

No people or animals were hurt.

Group manager Jason Crapper from Oxfordshire Fire and Rescue Service who attended the incident described the blaze as "a very severe fire".

Eight fire engines from Oxfordshire County Council's Fire and Rescue Service and Royal Berkshire Fire and Rescue extinguished the blaze in a combined effort to drench the fire.

The first firefighters on the scene were greeted with a rapidly spreading fire and further fire engines were sent along with water carriers from as far as Dorset and Wiltshire Fire and Rescue Service to try to stop the fire from spreading further.

Firefighters used water jets from around the buildings to quash the fire, whilst also putting in place measures to protect local watercourses from the water run off which threatened oil contamination from the fire.

An investigation into the cause is under way, but early indications suggest a faulty industrial generator started the fire.

Mr Crapper added: "Although it has caused considerable damage, the nearby buildings were protected which has saved both the buildings and the valuable plant and machinery they house.

"We work very closely with our Thames Valley Fire and Rescue Service partners and the benefits of this has been demonstrated today in the way that firefighters from Oxfordshire and Berkshire worked seamlessly together to successfully tackle this fire."

Accident victim dies after two car crash

A MAN injured in a collision in Cropredy last week has died in hospital.

Roads Policing officers attended a two vehicle collision between a green Porsche Boxster and a blue Ford Fiesta in Oxley Hill shortly after 8am on Tuesday last week.

An occupant of the Ford Fiesta, a 25-year-old man, sustained serious injuries and was taken by air ambulance to hospital in Coventry.

He died in the early hours of Wednesday last week.

The driver of the Porsche Boxster sustained minor injuries.

No arrests have been made in connection with the collision.

Investigating officer PC Julia Stroud, from the Serious Collision Investigation Unit, said: "I would like to speak to anyone who witnessed the collision or who saw the vehicles travelling prior to the collision."

On Tuesday last week police revealed they were searching for "a man, who was wearing a high visibility jacket" who was "believed to have left the scene of the collision".

On Thursday they updated the appeal to say: "We believe we have located a man we had been appealing for who had been travelling in the Ford Fiesta."

Anyone who has any information about the collision, or who has information about the whereabouts of the man should contact police on 101 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Concerns over idyllic countryside and access to roads

Split over Earth Trust plan

By Eva Astreinidou

A DEVELOPMENT plan to build on Little Wittenham's Earth Trust Centre has divided councillors over concerns of harm to historic landscape and 'idyllic countryside' as well as concerns over road access.

The application submitted to South Oxfordshire District Council was refused on January 20 by the Brightwell-Cum-Sotwell Parish Council, on the grounds of the 'effect on historic landscape.'

Earlier in January, Little Wittenham Parish Council approved the application with 'no strong views'.

The plan includes the creation of a new access track from Sires Hill and the formation of new car parking areas, a new skills and learning building, an amphitheatre, and three new barns as well as the conversion of existing office space to a cafe, and conversion of the existing barn to office space.

Some constraints include the site being part of the designated North Wessex area of outstanding natural beauty, as well as being an area of archeological significance that had scheduled monuments on its premises.

The planning application states: "One of the hills, Castle Hill, is a scheduled monument, which adds another layer of historic interest to the area. The proposal constitutes a major development in a highly sensitive location, with long reaching views in and out of the site."

It also says: "The siting of the centre is closely integrated with conserving and accessing the landscape and therefore could not be located elsewhere.

"While it is recognised that there will be landscape and visual impact on the surrounding area, a notable public benefit has been identified in the proposed changes and in the long-term guardianship of the wider area by the Earth Trust."

The application has received both positive and negative feedback from nearby residents.

Jennifer Jennings, a Wallingford resident, said: "This is an exciting proposal for a much-loved local resource. The expansion will be of great benefit to the local community, as well as drawing in visitors from further afield.

"We are frequent visitors to the Earth Trust and would use the site even more with these added features. What a great day out for families!"

Another resident said: "Whilst I appreciate the congestion that can occur on their current access road, the proposed new route is not beneficial to either the landscape or its inhabitants."

Lynda Atkins, county councillor for Wallingford and the Wittenhams, said: "I hope the Earth Trust application is approved. With any change like this, not everyone can be happy but overall in this case I think the benefits outweigh the concerns some local people have expressed. The Earth Trust is a really wonderful organisation managing some really special places, and we need to ensure it is right for the future."

fic, but they will be moved to run along Station Road to Broadway with High Street to be built upon as part of the development.

The bus route was approved by Oxfordshire County Council on February 23 last year.

The development will feature 24 extra shops, six restaurants, a Marks & Spencer's food hall, a gym, and 105 parking spaces.

The works on Station Road is to run for 14 weeks up to May 5.

Taxi Oscars win

DIDCOT: Go Green Taxis are celebrating after picking up awards at the 'prestigious' Professional Driver QSI Awards.

The Hawksworth-based taxi firm said the QSI Awards "are the equivalent of the Oscars for the UK taxi industry".

The eco-friendly company scooped double gold, including the coveted award for best 'Private Hire' Company in the 1-80 vehicle range, and the gold award for marketing.

The QSI judges said Go Green "are still the company to beat" after being impressed with the company's growth, its expansion strategy and the high standard of vehicles and drivers.

Go Green has expanded its fleet over the last 12 months from 11 cars to around 60 cars and have bases in Oxford, Wantage, Wallingford, Abingdon and Newbury.

Thousands protest over Trump ban

By Eva Astreinidou

MORE than 28,500 people in Oxfordshire have put their names to a petition calling for President Trump's state visit to be blocked.

On Friday last week Mr Trump signed an executive order suspending travel to the US from seven-Muslim majority countries – Syria, Iraq, Iran, Yemen, Somalia, Sudan and Libya. More than 1.8million people have signed nationwide.

Oxford West and Abingdon and Oxford East comprise the highest figures in the region, with more than 13,000 signatures.

The petition reads: "Donald Trump should be allowed to enter the UK in his capacity as head of the US Government, but he should not be invited to make an official State Visit because it would cause embarrassment to Her Majesty the Queen."

On Monday, hundreds of people attended a protest held at Carfax Tower by Oxford Stand Up to Racism, Oxford Momentum, and Oxford University Islamic Society.

Ian Mckendrick from Oxford Stand Up To Racism said: "It is clear Donald Trump is using racism as a political weapon to create divisions and scapegoats. This ban has immediate life wrecking consequences for people who have every legal right to be in the US but are now barred from returning to their jobs, homes and families. It also condemns refugees in genuine need of protection from persecution, and is an appalling attack on Human Rights.

"Trump's order also gives a green light to racists everywhere to go on the offensive. His election campaign was accompanied by a rise in racist attacks, and this will only incite more attacks.

"Trump's planned state visit to the UK would be an endorsement of his racism and would give heart to racists here – the Prime Minister should cancel the visits until Trump guarantees he will protect fundamental rights and freedoms."

The event organisers posted on Facebook: "Already people who have waited months for visas and paid everything, followed correct procedures, sold all of their stakes in their homeland and prepared for a momentous move are being denied entry to the country of their choice. As well as migrants this includes refugees. This will NOT stand.

"They shall NOT starve, they shall NOT freeze. Open the borders to the refugees!"

Andrew Smith, MP for Oxford East, said: "I share my constituents' shock and concern at President Trump's bans, which have everything to do with prejudice and discrimination and nothing to do with fighting terrorism.

"They tarnish the historic reputation and record of the US as welcoming refugees and migrants.

"It would clearly be inappropriate for a visit to take place until the US political system and courts together with international opinion have put this right. I am taking up these concerns with the Prime Minister."

Another petition countering the proposal to block the state visit has since been created – that reads: "Donald Trump should be invited to make an official State Visit because he is the leader of a free world and UK is a country that supports free speech and does not believe that people that oppose our point of view should be gagged."

The petitions will be debated in parliament on February 20.

President Trump's state visit is due to take place this summer.

Mass brawl at station leads to witness appeal

BRITISH Transport Police are appealing for witnesses after a man was knocked unconscious during a fight outside Oxford railway station on Saturday.

Officers were called to the front of the station around 4.30am on Saturday to reports that up to seven people were involved in an altercation.

When officers attended, they found a 19-year-old man who had been left unconscious. He received hospital treatment for minor cuts and bruises.

It is believed as many as 15 people could have been involved in the incident, both male and female.

Investigating officer Det Con Mat Harvey said: "Although the station was closed at this time, we know there would have been a number of people around.

"Did you see what happened? If so, please let us know as soon as you can.

"We cannot allow this kind of violence to take place and allow those responsible to escape without facing the consequences of their actions."

Anyone with information is asked to contact BTP on 0800 40 50 40.

Driver was using phone at time of fatal A34 crash

By Adam Flinn

A DRIVER was using his mobile phone when he caused a collision on the A34 in West Berkshire that led to a 28-year-old man being killed.

Lewis Stratford, 24, of Field Avenue in Oxford, pleaded guilty at Reading Crown Court last week to causing the death of Gavin Roberts by dangerous driving on the A34 near the Compton junction.

The crash happened shortly before 10pm on June 11 last year.

Stratford's Vauxhall Corsa collided into the central reservation and speared onto the opposite carriageway, where it was hit head on by Mr Roberts' BMW.

Mr Roberts suffered life-threatening injuries and was taken to hospital, but died four days later.

Appearing in court last Tuesday, Stratford admitted he was using his phone at the time of the crash.

Investigating officer Sgt Beth Walton, from the Serious Collision Investigation Unit, said: "This was an avoidable collision, occurring because of the actions taken by Lewis Stratford, which was to drive his vehicle at speed whilst using his mobile phone.

"Driving whilst using a mobile phone is one of the 'fatal four' driving offences, along with speeding, not wearing a seatbelt and drink or drug driving.

"It's an offence which can, as this case shows, have catastrophic consequences, and the loss of a life in these circumstances and impact on families and friends is devastating.

"The conviction, I hope, will allow the family and friends of Gavin Roberts to have a sense of closure with regard to proceedings and enable them to continue through their grief at this difficult time."

Following the crash, Mr Roberts' partner Meg Williamson set up a petition to impose a 50mph limit on the A34, enforced by speed cameras. This has reached almost 2,500 signatures.

It came just two months before 45-year-old Tracy Houghton, her 13-year-old son Ethan, 11-year-old son Josh, and 11-year-old stepdaughter Aimee Goldsmith, were killed in an eight-vehicle collision nearby on the A34 at East Ilsley.

Lorry driver Tomasz Kroker was also distracted by his phone when he caused the crash, and was jailed for 10 years in October.

Stratford was released on bail to be sentenced at Reading Crown Court on March 3.

Jamie's magical visit to school pupils

A MAGICAL runner-up from hit TV show Britain's Got Talent (BGT) dazzled schoolchildren as he embarked on a month-long tour.

Jamie Raven, who finished second to Jules O'Dwyer and her dog Matisse in the 2015 edition of BGT, visited two Oxford schools on Friday ahead of his show at the New Theatre on Monday.

Jamie has toured the world over the past 11 years perfecting his craft and said his ambition has always been to take magic to a wider audience – an opportunity BGT finally provided.

His online videos from BGT have now been seen millions of times, making him one of the most viewed magicians in the world.

His magic amazed audiences and even made top-judge Simon Cowell say: "I now finally believe in magic".

And on Friday, Jamie mesmerised pupils at St Barnabas Primary School, on Hart Street, and Rye St Antony, on Pullens Lane.

Rye St Antony deputy headteacher Philip Humphreys said: "We are really grateful that Jamie took time out from his busy schedule to come and speak and perform for our prep school pupils.

"It was a fantastic morning and the boys and girls were delighted to have the opportunity to talk to someone whose craft is admired around the world.

"Here at Rye St Antony, our philosophy is that every one of our pupils is an individual whose particular strengths and talents are encouraged and allowed to flourish within a supportive environment.

"After today's visit from Jamie, we may even have some budding young magicians in our midst!"

Mr Raven will return to Oxford on Monday to perform a brand-new live show at the New Theatre in George Street as part of a month-long tour.

• A Grundon donation to the food bank last year

United against waste

A WALLINGFORD-BASED waste management firm has donated thousands of pounds and devoted multiple volunteer days to help an Oxford food bank distribute food to more than 70 charities across Oxfordshire.

The Oxford Food Bank has so far received £8,000 from Grundon Waste Management since 2015 – and they have pledged to continue supporting the charity this year.

Launched in 2009, the Oxford Food Bank receives no Government grants or official support, relying instead on goodwill from local businesses and individuals to help meet its £70,000 a year running costs.

Combining the £5,000 raised last year with a further £3,000 from a Festive Food Share campaign in 2015, it means Grundon has now supported the charity to the tune of £8,000 and donated at least 24 volunteering days during 2016.

For every food waste container it collects from businesses during 2017 across its whole Thames Valley and South East operating area, the company will donate 5p to the charity.

The food bank's co-founder, David Cairns, said: "We really value Grundon's support and commitment, both from a practical and financial perspective, but also the fact that they share our desire to reduce the food waste mountain."

Managing director at Grundon, Clayton Sullivan-Webb, who has joined the food bank team on their rounds, said: "We continue to work hard to educate our customers about food waste, promoting the fact that disposal should always be the last resort.

"However, we do understand that sometimes there is no other choice, so by encouraging businesses to segregate food from other waste we can collect it separately and raise funds for this great charity at the same time."

Duchess gives her support to children's hospital in a letter

By George Welch

THE Duchess of Cambridge has written a letter congratulating the Oxford Children's Hospital on its 10th anniversary and pledging her "wholehearted support" to its charity appeal.

The children's hospital, based at the John Radcliffe Hospital in Headington, opened its doors to its first families a decade ago in 2007.

And since then, the purpose-built centre has held a special place in the hearts of thousands of families across Oxfordshire.

To mark the milestone, the hospital's charity has launched a new £2 million 10th anniversary appeal to help fund a new 62-bedroom Ronald McDonald House for parents to stay close to their poorly youngsters.

A statement of support from Catherine, Duchess of Cambridge, was sent to the hospital charity, praising the committed staff and encouraging people to support the new appeal.

She said: "It is wonderful to hear of the inspiring ways in which charitable donations have helped young patients and their families in the Oxford Children's Hospital over the past decade.

"So many areas of hospital life have been touched by the generosity of those donating to the hospital's charity.

"It is the efforts and dedication of these individuals, groups and organisations, in conjunction with the tireless work of committed hospital staff, that make this 10th anniversary celebration so very special. I would like to congratulate the Oxford Children's Hospital on this important milestone and lend my wholehearted support to a new appeal launched by the Oxford Radcliffe Hospitals Charitable Funds.

"I wish this appeal every success in raising funds so that babies, children, teenagers and their families can continue to be looked after in as comfortable and happy an environment as possible, with the very best equipment, during what can inevitably be an anxious time for all."

Lady Baldry, chair of the appeal, said her team were "thrilled to receive such special words of support".

She added: "We really hope our wonderful local community will also rally behind this important appeal."

The appeal will help create more space for parents to stay close to their children, as well as fund extra play areas and specialist medical equipment.

Dive into fundraising

THE OXFORD PAPER and Oxfordshire Guardian
Charity of the year 2017
Play2Give

10th Anniversary Play2Give

PLAY2GIVE has a packed year of activities planned and fun ways for you to get involved with their fundraising efforts to mark their 10th anniversary.

Perhaps the most hair-raising way to help is to take part in a tandem skydive planned for September. Are you brave enough to jump out of a plane at 13,000ft over Hinton Airfield in Brackley?

If that's a little too much for you how about taking on the Monster Race obstacle run at Cornbury Park on April 1?

Didcot's Willowbrook Leisure Centre hosted a family fun day on Sunday which kick started P2G's £10k in 10 appeal for this year - the funds from which will go to the Oxford Children's Hospital, one of P2G's main beneficiaries.

The spring will see a quirky take on football with a bubble football tournament in which teams will take each other on inside giant inflatable zorbing balls. P2G hopes to run this on Great Western Park in Didcot.

The regular children's football tournament is planned to take place in July and for the hardy, runners are invited to take on the gruelling 13.1 mile Oxford Half Marathon in support of P2G.

A more sedate way to show your support is to don your black tie attire and enjoy the 10th anniversary ball to be held at the Civic Centre in Didcot on September 29.

As well as celebrating 10 years of P2G changing and transforming lives it will also mark the 10th anniversary of the Children's Hospital for which the ball will be raising money along with it's other main cause, Headway Oxfordshire. Headway is celebrating its own 10th anniversary in 2018.

P2G is currently looking for a generous Oxfordshire company or two to sponsor or part sponsor the ball in return for free promotion and exposure for their business.

Don't let this list of activities stop you from doing anything else to help P2G during 2017, go to their website at www.play2give.org.uk

Oxford Children's Hospital

AS the hospital marks its 10 years, P2G's £40,000 raised for the hospital has enabled the group to have a lasting legacy with the naming of a room on the teenage ward. The long-term aim is to help fund the building of a parent accommodation block allowing parents to stay nearer their ill children.

Headway Oxfordshire

FUNDS raised will help create Oxfordshire's first neurological physiotherapy gym to benefit users.

Plea-sssss-ed to meet you Terri

PUPILS with autism at LVS Oxford enjoyed a day to remember when an animal handling company visited the Begbroke school for a sensory learning session.

Snakes, stick insects, and even a tarantula visited the school for young people aged 11 to 18 with a diagnosis on the autism spectrum, and the interactive learning format brought about great engagement and excitement amongst interested students.

The visit from Zoolab and their animals on Tuesday last week generated excitement, but the lessons also had a really scientific and educational benefit, the school said.

The classes were able to learn about food webs, looking at the processes that involve plants as producers through the chain of consumers from smaller animals like stick insects up to rats and snakes, and also about the process of evolution and how and why animals have developed like they have.

Student Owen said: "I really enjoyed it, especially the snake and the stick insect as they are animals you don't get to see often and never have the chance to touch."

One by one a giant snail, a stick insect, and a rat were brought out for students to hold and observe, before they were able to see a tarantula at close quarters in an open box.

The moment that drew the most reaction though was meeting Terri the cornsnake.

Zoolab's Georgie Jefferies, who conducted the session, said: "It was a great way for students with autism to engage with nature as it was such a sensory session where they could touch and feel the animals which really got them interested. It was a combination of education and therapy."

• Pupils from LVS Oxford enjoyed meeting the creatures from Zoolab, top, Thomas and Byron meet a cornsnake; above, with a giant snail and (top left), Byron meets a stick insect

Watchdog calls for openness on NHS plans

By Eva Astreinidou

HEALTHWATCH Oxfordshire is calling for transparency from the NHS bodies responsible for the planning and commissioning of health care services and challenging the refusal of a Freedom of Information request that they campaigned for due to 'unnecessary secrecy'.

The challenge was lodged against the region's Clinical Commissioning Groups (CCGs).

Last year, Healthwatch requested details on the region's sustainability and transformation plan (STP) for Buckinghamshire, Oxfordshire and Berkshire West (BOB) because "it felt it was being produced with unnecessary secrecy".

The request and a subsequent appeal were both refused.

Eddie Duller, chairman of Healthwatch Oxfordshire, said: "If this decision is upheld, it gives the NHS the right to invent all kinds of committees or sub-committees that are not in themselves statutory bodies and continue to work in secret."

He added: "It is becoming quite clear that the transformation of the NHS is being driven nationally to a pattern that will be difficult to be changed at a local level.

"There is great merit in some of the alleged proposals for sharing resources over a larger area such as BOB, but we believe these decisions should be made in a transparent manner."

David Smith, chief executive at OCCG and the lead for the BOB STP, said: "We would strongly refute any suggestion of secrecy around the BOB STP.

"As soon as the BOB STP draft plan was ready and had been agreed by NHS England it was published and made available in December 2016 for everyone to read, together with the summary document. The plan is still a draft. The public across the three counties will have an opportunity to comment and discuss the BOB STP options in the coming months and we want to hear their views before any final decisions are made.

"Healthwatch has had a seat at the table during development of Oxfordshire's proposals and its comments and expertise have helped to shape those proposals. Patients, the public and professional health and social care staff are now being asked for their views during the course of a full 12-week consultation.

"No decisions will be taken until the consultation is complete."

Healthwatch Oxfordshire aims to give citizens and communities in Oxfordshire a voice to influence and challenge how health and social care services are provided within their area.

Neighbours cheered by pub plan for arson site

By Eva Astreinidou

MYSTERY surrounds development plans to resurrect the derelict site that was home to the Jack Russell pub.

The pub, in Salford Road, Marston, has been the source of a long-running saga after it was damaged in a suspected arson attack in November and subsequently earmarked for a development of 16 flats on site.

Site owners wanted to demolish the building to restore it to a three-storey block of flats.

The news that Ronnie Politt, owner of Templar's Bar and Kitchen, Cowley, approached the owner with a bid to build a pub on the site was met with relief from local residents.

Mick Haines, Marston councillor and campaigner against the proposal to build flats on the site, welcomed the announcement.

In January he was campaigning in the area to garner residents' support for the restoration into a new pub.

With the Old Marston Parish council on his side, he was hopeful the application for flats could be halted and the proposal for a new pub accepted.

In response to the news, he said: "I was over the moon."

Now he says: "The owner of the Jack Russell has not got in touch [with the Templar's Bar and Kitchen owner]" and added that the bid "might not go ahead after all" as the current owner may no longer want the purchase to go ahead.

Cllr Haines added: "I think it is scandalous. We are not giving in on our end."

Before news of the bid to redevelop the site into a pub, he said: "We would like to see it standing as a pub again as soon as possible. I didn't find anyone who opposed this. If the housing development went ahead, it would mean taking away a valuable asset of the community."

He added: "The three-story building they are proposing does not fit in with the area and the amount of parking spaces is horrendous. Part of the worry is also the flooding and sewage situation because more flats will put a strain on the system."

The planning application is pending determination by Oxford City Council.

The pub has stood derelict since it was sold by brewery Greene King in October 2015.

Reflecting on the past and creating a safer future

HOLOCAUST Memorial Day was marked with a service in Oxford's Town Hall on Friday with the theme 'How can life go on (after genocide)'?

Dignitaries and faith leaders gathered for the occasion which has bee commemorated in the UK since 2001.

The Lord Mayor of Oxford, Councillor Mohammed Altaf-Khan, said: "Holocaust Memorial Day is not only about commemorating past genocides and honouring those who died, but about standing with those who survive so this year's theme is 'How can life go on (after genocide)?'.

"It is a chance to reflect on and learn from the lessons of the past to influence and create a safer future as well as to ensure that these horrendous crimes are not forgotten or repeated."

Penny Faust, chair of the Oxford Council of Faiths and member of the Oxford Jewish Congregation, said: "Holocaust Memorial Day reminds us of the dangers of racism and prejudice across the world.

"It's a reminder that, more than 70 years after the liberation of the Nazi concentration camps, we can still see genocide, the conscious and deliberate effort of one group to eliminate another.

"I believe that each of us must speak out against racism and prejudice at all levels of our society wherever and whenever we notice them, before they grow into something much worse."

In 2005, the United Nations declared January 27 as an international day to remember the millions of people who have been murdered or whose lives have been affected during the Holocaust, and in subsequent genocides in Cambodia, Bosnia, Rwanda and Darfur.

• Chair of the Oxford Council of Faiths and member of the Oxford Jewish Congregation Penny Faust lit a candle in remembrance and spoke of the need to speak out about racism and prejudice

Sewage charges

OXON: Thames Water is due to be sentenced this week for five offences at sewage treatment works including Didcot, Henley and Littlemore.

The utility company is due to appear at Aylesbury Crown Court today and tomorrow over offences during 2013 and 2014.

The facilities involved are four sewage treatment works (STWs), at Aylesbury, Didcot, Henley and Little Marlow, serving a population in excess of 320,000, and a large sewage pumping station at Littlemore.

The prosecutions, under Regulation 38 of the Environmental Permitting Regulations 2010, involve discharging polluting matter into the River Thames and its tributaries and breaches of the environmental permits controlling discharges.

Council print deal

W OXON: West Oxfordshire District Council has saved £35,000 for its taxpayers after agreeing a major document printing and distribution deal.

A three-year contract has been awarded to UK Mail to outsource the printing and mailing of council tax and business rate bills along with housing benefit documents.

Cabinet members agreed the move which followed a tendering process.

Come on girls – it's time to get dirty and fight cancer

By George Welch

WOMEN across Oxfordshire are being urged to help beat cancer by taking part in Cancer Research UK's Race for Life events this year.

Over the past 20 years, more than eight million women have taken part in the charity's Race for Life, raising over £547 million to fund life-saving work.

Participants can walk, jog or run around the course as part of the Race for Life 5k and 10k events on July 9.

Pretty Muddy took place in Oxford for the first time last year and is returning to the city for a second year this summer.

The women-only, non-competitive 5k and 10k obstacle course - with an extra helping of mud - received a whole-hearted welcome from the thousands of women who took part.

Thanks to their enthusiasm, the event will return on September 16 and organisers are urging women to secure their place as soon as possible.

Money raised from the two events will help Cancer Research UK scientists find new ways to treat cancer and save more lives.

Kelly Rumble, Cancer Research UK's Oxford event manager, said: "Signing up to take part in Race for Life is a great way for women to set themselves a new and exciting challenge for 2017.

"Whether they're planning a 5k amble with friends, a 10k sprint or a mud-splattered race around Pretty Muddy, every step women take will help to bring forward the day when all cancers are cured.

She added: "We're delighted to be able to bring Pretty Muddy back to Oxford as it's a fantastic addition to our Race for Life family of events.

"It has all the fun and camaraderie of our much loved 5k and 10k events - but with added mud, thrills and spills

"Every day, around 130 people are diagnosed with cancer in the south east. That's why we're calling on women in Oxford to make 2017 a year to remember.

"Together, we can stop this devastating disease in its tracks."

One in two people in the UK will be diagnosed with cancer at some stage in their lives, but more people are now surviving the disease than ever before, with survival rates doubling since the early 1970s.

Thanks to the generosity of its supporters, the charity was able to spend over £22 million last year in Oxford on some of the UK's leading scientific and clinical research - helping more men, women and children survive.

Community projects receive grants boost

By Eva Astreinidou

MORE than £52,000 has been awarded in grants to help support community projects across the Vale district.

The money has been awarded by Vale of White Horse District Council to support improvements to sports facilities and other centres.

Faringdon Football Club, Wantage Tennis Club, and the Abingdon Rowing Club have all received a portion of the grant.

Funding has also been granted to Wantage Gymnastics Club, Pump House Project and Harwell Village Tennis Club.

The top-tier amount has been awarded to Faringdon Football Club for an upgrade to their changing rooms and to replace their door and security shutter.

The club released a statement outlining how the money will be used.

The statement read: "After fantastic work from members of the Faringdon Town Football Club Committee, we can announce that we have been awarded a £13,400 grant from the Vale.

"This grant is to be used for the planned new changing facilities. The club has set a target of £45,500 to make improvements to the facilities at Tucker Park.

"Planning approval has already been granted for the work, so this is a great start to the fundraising."

Tom Brown's Museum, based in a schoolroom dating from 1617, has also been given a boost of over £6,700 for repairs.

The funding was agreed by the Abingdon and North East, and the Faringdon and Wantage Area Committees.

Councillor Elaine Ware, cabinet member for the Vale, said: "These grants will help pay for much needed repair work and upgrades at key community facilities in the Vale.

"The funding will benefit many of our residents and recognises the important contribution these community projects make to life in the district."

The next round of applications for community grant funding in the Vale opens on April 1.

Where the funds will go:
Faringdon Football Club	£14,442
Floodlighting at Wantage Tennis Club	£12,216
Car park improvements at Abingdon Rowing Club	£7,015
Uffington Parish Council repairs to Tom Brown's Museum	£6,721
Sprung floor at Wantage Gym Club	£6,553
Stage resurfacing and a buggy/bike shelter at the Pump House Project	£3,143
Harwell Village Tennis Club for replacement fencing	£2,160

Jennifer and Jacob Boender of Orthomobility at Culham Science Centre – Mr Boender says the natural properties of fluid movement blend with those of the body

Nice and kneesy does it!

A BUSINESS that specialises in the development of a revolutionary new approach to artificial knees has expanded with a move to Culham Science Centre.

Orthomobility's range of artificial knee joints known as 'Very Good Knees' (VGK) enables the movement of the user when walking leg-over-leg downstairs or on slopes without depending on battery power.

Founded in 2004 by husband and wife team Jacob and Jennifer Boender, the company has worked with amputees within the NHS to develop a fluidic control technology for knee joints that allows the amputee complete control of the artificial limb.

Inventor Mr Boender said: "The fluidics harness the natural properties of fluid movement to blend in with those of the human body, to the extent that users spontaneously call it a Very Good Knee."

The VGK Go has established itself as a high-end product in a global market.

Mrs Boender added that the knee joints, although high-end, are available for everyone.

She said: "There's a common perception that people in the armed forces lose limbs, but anyone can lose a limb at any time due to trauma and disease – even more so in an ageing society.

"Yet adequate funding for civilian amputees is often overlooked. We specialise in creating innovative prosthetic knees that are affordable and accessible to people worldwide who have lost legs."

Orthomobility has leased a 1,400 sq ft office at Culham Science Centre to house its seven strong UK team and were attracted to the site due to the combination of office and lab space in addition to on site facilities.

Dawn Russell, commercial property manager at the UK Atomic Energy Authority (UKAEA), said: "The Culham Science Centre team is pleased to welcome Orthomobility to the site and look forward to helping Jacob and Jennifer to focus on and grow their business at Culham."

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

The pursuit of forever family homes in Oxford

With its outstanding schools and world class university, Oxford is perennially popular amongst families, keen to give their children the best start in life.

Inevitably, demand for family homes outweighs supply and, with Stamp Duty levies penalising homes priced over £1million, competition for large detached properties priced under this threshold is more acute than ever.

Mark Charter, partner at Carter Jonas Oxford, said: "Oxford has always been a hotspot for families, not least because of the high calibre of schools - both state and independent - that draw in pupils from far and wide.

"Irrespective of broader market conditions, there is consistent demand for three to five-bedroom homes and these often achieve prices in excess of £1million.

"We often advise applicants to act quickly when family homes come onto the market. A property might need some work and indeed might have extension potential, but it's important to approach each viewing with vision and an understanding of what the house could become. Needless to say that family homes don't languish in the Oxford market for long."

One example of a newly launched family house is 70 Blenheim Drive - a three-bedroom house located about a mile and a half north of the city centre, close to the popular Summertown area. The home sits in a generous plot with scope for further development.

70 Blenheim Drive is priced at £975,000.

For those in search of period charm, Fant Cottage is a five-bedroom cottage located in the peaceful hamlet of Garford, approximately 20 minutes' drive from the centre of Oxford. Dating back to the 17th century, the cottage has been extended over time and now offers flexible living accommodation – ideal for families.

Fant Cottage is priced at £965,000.

Tribute act so good it's bad

By James Richings

HE might have died nearly eight years ago, but Michael Jackson's legacy will live on.

His iconic tracks spanned over four decades and have been played millions of times – MJ was one of a kind.

And if you never had the chance to the see the great man live, not to worry, as one of the world's leading Michael Jackson tribute acts will be at the New Theatre on Monday, February 13.

Portrayed by Ben Bowman, the musician will execute every MJ song and dance move to perfection, as he hopes to give the George Street venue a show to remember.

"I'm meticulous because I'm a huge fan of Michael Jackson as well," he told the Guardian.

"So whenever I perform, I've got to make sure that my hair is right, my hat is worn properly, my dance moves are perfect and so on – everything has to be fine tuned.

"I don't like saying the skies the limit as I like to go further than that as I want to improve on the skills that I've learnt and learn new ones.

"The thing with MJ is that you can watch the same dance move 1,000 times and still learn something new.

"He literally did everything, he was a dancer, singer, composer, writer, beatboxer, choreographer you name it.

Ben Bowman as Michael Jackson

"Yes, he was most probably the first manufactured pop star, but he in a way, manufactured himself.

"He just stunned people and I think that's what got people involved."

Ben has idolised the multi-award winning singer since an early age and admitted that when he started imitating the legendary musician, it was originally a hobby.

However, as time went by, more people were coming to see the shows and now in 2017, Jackson Live is regarded as one of the world's most successful Michael Jackson tribute acts.

The production focuses on Jackson's three world tours, Bad (1987 to 1989), Dangerous (1992 to 1993) and HIStory (1996 to 1997), where Ben will perform some of the most recognisable MJ tracks of all time.

And as well as thanking his mother, who took him to see the legend live at Wembley in the early 90s, Ben also revealed who gave him the encouragement to perform as the musician.

"It was one of my school friends Bethany Snow who encouraged me to do it," he said.

"One day she came up to me and said, 'how does his new song go?', I sang the song for a couple of seconds and she just went, 'woah! you sound just like him' and within those seconds, that's how it started.

"I was in college at the time doing a BTEC in Performing Arts when I thought, I will give this a go.

"I realised that I could make more money on the circuit as a tribute than acting in the West End so I decided to give it a whirl.

"Effectively, my hobby has turned into my job and now I'm touring the UK with live bands, dancers and it's turned into this amazing production which is pretty cool.

He added: "It did occur to me that I thought I wouldn't be able to do this for a job because at the time when I started, he wasn't really a fashionable artist.

"This was just before the 2003 trial and all that stuff and his album at the time hadn't done much.

"So it was a difficult time to launch it but it came apparent very quickly as people loved the music."

Tickets cost £26.50 and the show starts at 7.30pm.

Butterfly takes flight

A PRODUCTION about human equality and mental health issues will be performed at the Old Fire Station in Oxford next Thursday, February 9.

Written and directed by Vici Wreford-Sinnott, 'Butterfly' is a one-woman play starring Jacqueline Phillips, which focuses on tackling the stigma around mental health.

Vici believes the rawness of the show will leave a good impression with her audience, as Butterfly embarks on a country-wide tour.

Her latest production comes after her critically acclaimed 2015 ARC production of The Art of Not Getting Lost, which was partly based on Vici's own life experiences.

"Butterfly is a play about the history of stigma, and is never more relevant in today's climate, with figures rising all the time of those experiencing mental health distress," she said.

"This new piece tackles the stigma surrounding mental health head on and aims to set the record straight."It's important to speak out both about mental health conditions as there should be no shame, but also about the cuts in services which are severely impacting on peoples' lives."

The play starts at 7.30pm, tickets cost £10.

THEIR last two shows in the city have been memorable occasions and The Brew will be hoping for more success in Oxford next week.

The Grimsby-based band, made up of Tim Smith on the bass guitar and vocals, his son Kurtis on the drums and vocals and Jason Barwick on the lead guitar, play at The Bullingdon on Thursday, February 9.

Since forming in 2005, the three have gone on to achieve success all over Europe, have had sell out shows in the UK whilst gaining thousands of fans all over the continent.

And with the release of their latest album, 'Shake the Tree' at the end of last year, Tim says they have no intention of letting up with a tour which will see them take in Spain, Germany, Switzerland, Holland and Austria.

Tim revealed the inspiration for their latest album.

"It had been over two years since the release of our last album 'Control' (2014) and we were receiving many requests for a new album, so the inspiration was the fans," he said.

"We had many ideas but really needed to just find time from touring to sit down and get into the studio.

"The previous album received such acclaim that we were really excited to get back and build on that reputation."

The musicians have become regular faces on the European rock scene - especially in Germany – where they have gained many supporters.

After their performance at The Rockpalast Festival was broadcast across the country and beyond in 2009, the trio gained many German fans loving who enjoyed the group's enthusiastic and lively performance.

But with all the fans and the fun comes a downside, as Tim revealed.

"It is very difficult to break into the music industry as there are so many good bands out their and so much choice for the fans to see," he said.

"Initially there is virtually no money involved with it, so it becomes very difficult to sustain yourself.

"Luck plays a big part also, being in the right place at the right time really does make a big difference as that's how it all happened for us in Europe.

"We just happened to play in front of the right person at the right time.

"Then it seems to take on a life of its own, suddenly everybody is interested in you but you have to keep that momentum going that is also very difficult."

Tickets cost £10, doors open at 7pm.

Rhys is waking up to success

By James Richings

SINGER-SONGWRITER Rhys Lewis is optimistic about his future.

Following the release of his debut single, 'Waking Up Without You' at the end of last year, the track has achieved an incredible 700,000 streams on Spotify.

And he hopes he can gain more fans on Thursday, February 9, when he arrives at The Cellar in Oxford.

When seeing the amount of streams on his debut track, Rhys told the Guardian: "It was a real surprise!

"It's the first thing I've released under my own name so it felt great to actually have some music out.

"I was nervous and excited to see how people would react to it, so it felt amazing when the song started to get some love and attention on Spotify, and to know that the emotion of the song has resonated with other people meant a lot.

"I put so much time into writing my lyrics and they are always very personal, so when you get to play to an audience that you can tell are listening to every word it's a real privilege.

"You know that the story of the song has come across and hopefully it's made more of an impact.

"And I think the more engaged an audience is with a gig, the more engaged you have to be as a performer to deliver every word with conviction.

"So I find it inspiring to play for a great crowd."

Despite not being a household name just yet, Rhys has already performed at some of the UK's most notorious festivals and concerts.

Most notably at last year's British Summertime Ball at Hyde Park, where the musician performed on the main stage in front of 12,000 people.

The experience of performing live and the success of his inaugural single has given Rhys the encouragement that his career will go far.

And with gigs in Germany after his Oxford visit, Rhys insists that keeping his head down and improving his craft will help him make the big time.

The singer will have one more show in the UK before heading abroad.

"It's incredibly difficult as a new artist trying to 'break through' simply because there as so many great artists trying to do the same," he said.

"It's hard to know what to focus your efforts on - should you be writing? Should you be gigging? Should you be promoting yourself more on social media?

"The answer is yes to all of them, so it's basically a full-time job and takes a lot of energy. So staying motivated and finding time to do all of that is a real challenge for up-and coming-artists.

"But I think if you focus on the music first, make something that you're excited and passionate about then hopefully the rest will fall into place more easily."

It starts at 7pm and tickets start from £6.

• Rhys Lewis will be in Oxford on Thursday, February 9

Porsche 911 Turbo

I'M going to be honest here – I am not a big Porsche fan – but the 911 Turbo is a fantastic car. So first off - here are some stats; 3.8 litre twin turbo horizontally opposed engine that sits at the rear and produces 397 kW (540 hp) and a maximum torque of 710 Nm. 0 to 62 mph comes up in 3.0 seconds (with launch control) and a on a race track you will reach a max top speed of 198 mph.

Now I have your full attention I will begin...

Design: The new 911 Turbo is one of the best looking in the range and it has this ability to appeal to a person's heart as well as their heads. I said I was not a Porsche fan – but if I am honest, I can't stop looking at it because it is such a stunning looking machine.

Yes the 911 has been around as long as the beginning of time – but then Porsche have an ability to take a design that let's face it, has had many incarnations over many years - and then refine it until it is simply staggering.

At the front you will find an all new front section which has the addition of LED headlights and 4 point daytime running lights as standard specification on all models. Then, at the rear you will find the elegantly designed three dimensional taillights and powerfully shaped twin tailpipes that you tend to find nailed to the back of NASA Rocket.

On the inside: The interior is just as dynamic as the exterior. Sitting inside a modern Porsche is just as good as it has always been. This is a driver focused car - everything is in the right place and placed perfectly at the drivers fingertips. Nothing for me in here is out of place or fussy.

As standard the Turbo also comes with plenty of equipment, including dual-zone climate, heated windscreen washer jets, electric sports seats and a media system that features integrated sat-nav, USB, Internet functions and a whole host of things to keep you happy for hours if not weeks.

Chassis: The chassis of the 911Turbo is epic – there is no other word to describe it. The smooth high speed manoeuvrability of the 911 is the icing on your auntie's sponge cake when it comes to having a lot of fun with a car that basically has a very large engine hanging out the back. Also, being a 911 it has exceptional levels of stability and cornering agility thanks to those Porsche engineers and those large 20 inch wheels which all help in playing their part in keeping the 911 firmly planted onto the tarmac.

To sum up: Everything about the 911 Turbo is perfection and I for one am missing it terribly right now.

Price: 911 Turbo costs from £126,925

THE LAW HAS CHANGED ... DO YOU HAVE THE CORRECT GAS?

We can now offer R1234YF car air-con recharge and service

Wheatley CAR CENTRE

Is your car 2013 or newer? If so, you will need the correct gas.

As of the 7th September 2016 we are able to offer R1234yf refrigerant re-gassing, or a car air-con recharge as sometimes known at our Wheatley Car Centre Branch.

This gas is compulsory for new cars from 2013 all be it has been around since 2010, although some manufacturers are still refusing to use this, notably Mercedes who are not happy with the flammable nature of the gas, which in turn means not many companies offer the re-gassing service for cars using r1234yf. But due to the amount of cars we sell we have needed to be able have this service onsite so we can now offer this service to our customers.

A common question is why the old, r134a gas found in most cars today, is being replaced?

It's driven by environmental concerns as the new gas is more environmentally friendly.

So, for ALL your re-gas and service needs please contact our Wheatley Car Centre Service Department, tel. 01865 874046 opt 2 • www.wheatleycarcentre.co.uk

No buyer found as Manor F1 collapses, 200 lose their jobs

By Adam Flinn

BANBURY-BASED Formula One team Manor has folded, with around 200 staff being made redundant.

The operating company behind the team, Just Racing Services Limited (JRSL) ceased trading last Friday – having gone into administration earlier in January – when no buyer could be found.

It employed 212 staff, with all but a few being made redundant on Tuesday. All staff were paid up until the end of January.

Administrators FRP Advisory had been trying to find a buyer for JRSL, but no investment was secured to allow the company to continue.

Joint administrator Geoff Rowley said: "It is deeply regrettable that the team has had to cease trading and close its doors. Manor is a great name in British motorsport and the team has achieved a great deal over the past two years, invigorated under new ownership.

"Operating and running an F1 team to the high standards demanded however requires significant ongoing investment.

"JRSL was put into administration at the start of January shortly after attempts to sell the business fell through at the last hurdle. We would like to thank all the staff for their support and professionalism during this difficult process."

Manor started in F1 in 2010 as Virgin Racing, before becoming Marussia in 2011. The team scored their first points when Jules Bianchi finished ninth at the 2014 Monaco Grand Prix, just months before a horrific accident in Japan left him in a coma – he then died the following summer.

Marussia went into administration late in 2014 but was taken over by Steven Fitzpatrick, and they reverted back to Manor for 2015 and 2016.

Pascal Wehrlein got their second and what would ultimately be their last points-scoring finish in Austria last year, coming home in 10th place.

This looked like it would be enough to secure Manor 10th in the constructors' championship, before Sauber picked up two points in the rain-affected Brazilian Grand Prix, leapfrogging the Swiss team above them.

Because of that Manor lost out on millions of pounds of prize money for 2017, contributing to the team's downfall.

Fighters ready for opening rounds

BOXING coach John Houston says he is delighted with the progress of his boxing champions Terry Russell and Gavin Lissenden as they prepare for their opening fights of the new season this weekend.

Houston, who trains the duo out of his South Moreton boxing gym, has been putting both Russell and Lissenden through their paces over the past eight weeks to ensure the pair put on the performance of their lives at Saturday's televised Queensbury Boxing League event in West Sussex.

National champion Russell will make the first defence of his title having made an unsuccessful attempt to repeat the trick in the light-heavyweight division against Dominic Felix back in September.

Meanwhile, Didcot's Lissenden featured in some of the league's most exciting contests last season and his regional title defence against Brighton's Andy Murataj promises to deliver more of the same.

For Houston, the key to victory for Lissenden is to avoid a slugfest.

He said: "In Gavin's last defence against Jake Heasman he got involved in a war and was knocked down. If he had stuck to his boxing he would have been fine.

"I consider Murataj even more dangerous so we've again been hammering the message home to keep things at range."

The boxing pair train five days a week and only had one day off over Christmas.

Both South Moreton boxers will be in action on Saturday at the Effingham Park Hotel in West Sussex.

Stars too bright for Dynamos for the third time

OXFORD City Stars fought back admirably from 3-1 down to beat Invicta Dynamos 5-3 in a badly tempered match at the Oxford Ice Rink on Sunday.

Five different Oxford players found the back of the net against second placed Dynamos and, despite the Dynamos still being three places and nine points above the Stars, the win is the third defeat Simon Anderson's side have inflicted on their visitors this season. The Stars started brightly and, with less than three minutes to go in the first period, Dax Hedges put Oxford ahead.

If momentum had been with the Stars in the first period, the first half of the second period definitely belonged to the Dynamos.

The Stars were left scratching their heads as the Dynamos scored three goals in quick succession in the first five minutes of the period.

A Steven Osman strike and a Bailey Wootton double gave the visitors a remarkable lead and Oxford were playing catch up all of a sudden.

But the Stars showed impressive character themselves to level the contest through Alan Green and Matt Jordon on 28 and 30 minutes.

Both sides came out fired up for the third period, each wanting to take home the points, but the game descended into chaos with fights frequently delaying play.

Dominic Hopkins gave the Stars the lead for the second time less than a minute into the last period and, amidst the disorder, Jesse Lye secured the win on 49 minutes, managing to hit the puck into the net when falling over and sliding along the ice.

Tournament of a lifetime in Morocco

AN amateur golfer from Bicester is preparing to head out to Morocco for an expenses-paid trip of a lifetime to compete in the singles final of the 2016 Morocco Matchplay.

Semi-retired Martyn Smith, 62, a 16-handicapper, who plays at Heythrop Park GC, is one of 32 golfers who qualified from two regional finals in 2016 to play in the grand final, which takes place from February 7-10 in Marrakech.

Smith will enjoy complimentary return flights from Gatwick to Marrakech; five nights' luxury bed-and-breakfast accommodation in the five-star Palmeraie Palace; four rounds of championship golf on the Robert Trent Jones-designed PalmGolf Marrakech Palmeraie; a welcome cocktail reception; and a last-night gala dinner and prize presentation.

Four competitions culminate at the grand final, sponsored for a third year by the Moroccan National Tourist Office (MNTO): singles, pairs, mixed pairs and senior pairs.

Hoops clipped by Wings in 4-0 thrashing on the road

By George Welch

OXFORD City caretaker boss Mark Jones admitted his side were second best as a second half capitulation condemned the Hoops to their joint heaviest defeat on the road this season.

City, who now have a fortnight off, won't want to dwell on Saturday's heavy 4-0 defeat at Welling United for too long.

After a goalless first 58 minutes, Pierre Joseph-Dubois tucked home a loose ball to give the Wings, who City beat 2-1 on the opening day of the season, the lead.

But City's miserable afternoon was compounded after Joseph-Dubois's opener on 59 minutes.

Further goals from Danny Waldren, Harry Crawford and Adam Coombes followed to seal City's worst defeat since December's 6-0 hammering in what was Justin Merritt's last game in charge.

Speaking after the game, Jones praised Welling but admitted his side, who are now winless in three, were not good enough on the day.

He said: "Sometimes you have to take defeat on the chin and accept that, on the day, you were beaten by the better side.

"I thought it was an even game for those 45 minutes and we told the players at half time to concentrate on the little details and be more switched on at key moments.

"We didn't really have the quality to hurt them. Our passing was poor at times, we gave the ball away cheaply but, and it sounds strange to say this after getting beaten by four goals, I thought the back four did OK.

"I just felt we didn't carry enough threat going forward – if you look at the whole 90 minutes we didn't really make their 'keeper make a save even though we got into some good positions.

"I thought we tried. I just felt that we weren't as good as them today.

"Sometimes you have to look at that and accept that. It's not nice, we don't like getting beaten and everybody is disappointed but we've got to keep working."

North Leigh too strong in derby

NORTH Leigh hammered local rivals Wantage Town 4-0 on Tuesday to move up to eighth and continue their Division 1 South & West charge.

Bradley Gray gave the Millers a 1-0 half time lead at Alfredian Park before second half goals from Michael Hopkins, Lance Williams (p) and George Seacole.

The result saw Wantage, who also lost 4-1 at home to Larkhall Athletic on Saturday, slip to the bottom of the table on goal difference.

But Leigh, who beat lowly Slimbridge 3-1 at Eynsham Park on Saturday, continued their promotion fight by extending their unbeaten run to nine matches. Slimbridge scored in the first minute on Saturday but North Leigh fought back thanks to a Gray strike and a Hopkins double.

John Brough's side are five points and three places off the play-offs – with games in hand on all the teams above them.

Leigh substitute defender Jon Else was sent off for a two-footed tackle late on, but Leigh held on for a vital three points.

The Millers travel to mid-table Shortwood United on Saturday before hosting 17th-placed Barnstable Town on Tuesday. Wantage – winless in 12 – travel to ninth placed Winchester City on Saturday.

U's youngster signs for Diddy

DIDCOT Town have signed striker George Jeacock following his release from Oxford United.

Jeacock returns to the Railwaymen following a work experience spell in November 2015, when he scored three goals in nine games.

After signing a professional contract with the U's last summer, the 19-year-old's contract was terminated early last month.

Manager Andy Ballard said he is pleased to capture Jeacock.

He said: "He is a talented young player with ambition to play at a higher level. I am happy to give him the opportunity to gain regular football and help him achieve his ambition. If George fulfils his potential it should be beneficial for us as a club and himself."

Jeacock, who has been training at the club for a few weeks, has also played for Banbury United and Farnborough.

Jeacock signed on Tuesday, following Diddy's fourth consecutive draw on Saturday as their Division 1 South & West continues to peter out.

Debutant Riccardo Andrady scored in stoppage time to earn Didcot a point as they drew 2-2 in their longest trip of the season to Bideford. Diddy made the worst possible start when Dan Western pounced on a poor punch from goalkeeper Leigh Bedwell to tap into an empty net and give Biddy the lead.

Didcot responded at the start of the second half when Louis Joyce slotted home the equaliser.

Bideford regained the lead 10 minutes later as Western doubled his tally with a chip from outside the box.

But Didcot salvaged a point when Andrady, on loan from Woking, was introduced with 10 minutes remaining and rescued a point.

Two more sign on for Oxford United Women

TWO more players have re-signed for Oxford United Women ahead of the WSL Spring Series.

Lauren Haynes and Madi Lee become the second and third players to commit to the club following defender Jess Frampton's decision to re-sign last week.

Midfielder Haynes made 15 appearances for the club last season and said she cannot wait to get the season underway after 'developing a lot last season'.

She said: "I'm really excited and delighted to re-sign for Oxford United again for next season.

"I just want to get back to it now and continue to develop and become the best player I can be but also helping the team fulfil its potential.

"We had a tough time last year but I feel confident as a club we are heading in the right direction to hit our targets next season."

After a great first season with the U's last year, defender and Florida native Lee is also raring to go for the WSL Spring Series.

She said: "Last year was a learning experience, and its great that we have managed to keep the same group together for the Spring Series. We are a young team who know we will have to work hard to accomplish more that we did last year, but it's very exciting and we are ready to prove ourselves.

"This shorter season is the perfect opportunity to build this team and prepare for the season later on in the year."

The WSL Spring Series kicks off with a home tie against Everton Ladies on February 12.

Season tickets cover four home games and cost £12.

U'S CUP DELIGHT

By George Welch

• Oxford United players celebrate Kane Hemmings' opener Picture: Steve Daniels

OXFORD United continue to fight on three fronts after progressing in the FA Cup and Checkatrade Trophy this week.

The U's embarrassed SkyBet Championship side Newcastle United 3-0 at the Kassam Stadium on Saturday before sweeping aside fellow League One outfit Bradford City 2-1 on Tuesday – also at the Kassam – to reach the semi-final of the Checkatrade Trophy.

Saturday's cup upset over Newcastle in front of a sold out crowd was secured with second half goals from Kane Hemmings, Curtis Nelson and a debut strike from Toni Martinez, with the help of a penalty save from Simon Eastwood.

It is the fifth time Oxford have reached the 5th round of the competition. They last played at that stage in 1994 when they lost 2-1 at home to Chelsea.

United will travel to Premier League Middlesbrough for the round of 16 on February 18 as they look to reach the quarter-final for the first time in their history.

As a result, their trip to Charlton Athletic that weekend has been postponed.

After a fairly even first half against Newcastle, the U's took the lead just a minute after the restart when Newcastle failed to clear a corner and Hemmings prodded home from close range.

But the decisive moment of the match came just after the hour when Aleksandar Mitrovic had a penalty saved by Eastwood when Newcastle were trailing 1-0.

The Serbian's miss proved costly when Nelson headed in from a corner on 79 minutes and Martinez added a third with a wonderfully guided header three minutes from time.

Mitrovic could have scored at least a hat-trick but he squandered a number of good chances for the Magpies, who are second in the SkyBet Championship and look Premier League-bound.

Eastwood produced arguably his performance of the season by pulling off some vital saves in what was Michael Appleton's 150th match in charge of the U's.

And Appleton marked his 151st game with a win too – this one coming against Bradford to reach the semi-final of the Checkatrade Trophy.

A Chris Maguire penalty and a spectacular Marvin Johnson strike separated by just two second half minutes secured United's passage into the last four.

A looping header from Bradford's on loan forward Jordy Hiwula five minutes from time caused late nerves, but United held on to win their third game in as many matches, all in different competitions.

United are now just one win away from returning to Wembley and will travel to either Luton Town or Yeovil Town, who play on Tuesday, later this month for a place in the final.

The other semi-final sees League One side Coventry City host League Two outfit Wycombe Wanderers on Tuesday.

The Checkatrade Trophy final will be played at Wembley Stadium on April 2.

United lost to Barnsley in last year's final.

Out of play offs after two defeats

BANBURY United slipped out of the Southern Premier League play-offs after back-to-back 1-0 defeats in four days.

The Puritans' impressive nine match unbeaten run came to an end at title-chasing Merthyr Town on Saturday before losing by the same 1-0 scoreline at home to a resurgent Basingstoke Town on Tuesday.

A superb free-kick by Nana Owusu six minutes into the second half gave Basingstoke, who have now won their last three matches, a deserved three points at the Banbury Plant Hire Community Stadium.

Tuesday's defeat made it two consecutive games without scoring for Mike Ford's side, but they should have salvaged a point from their trip to south Wales on Saturday.

Merthyr always looked the more likely to make the breakthrough and they duly did with 16 minutes remaining when Kayne McLaggon struck a fine shot from the right across the goal and into the far corner of the net.

But Banbury should have rescued a point when they were given a penalty after Luke Carnell was felled in the box with just two minutes to go.

James Smith stepped up to take the kick but Oliver Davies in the Merthyr goal did well to dive low to his left and knock the ball away for a corner, much to the delight of the home supporters.

United will be looking to bounce back on Saturday when they host 20th placed Cambridge.

Appleton: Toon win is biggest achievement of my career

OXFORD United head coach Michael Appleton hailed his cup heroes after Saturday's 3-0 hammering of Newcastle United.

The 41-year-old, who celebrated his 150th game in charge of Oxford with the win, believes his side can push on and be SkyBet League One promotion contenders next season.

Having beaten two Championship teams in this season's FA Cup already, Appleton said: "We are certainly going in the right direction.

"I think the start of the season was an eye opener for a few of the players.

"A few of the players didn't expect the step up from League One to League Two and [the better league standard] shocked me a little bit.

"But over the period of time we've got a lot of young players who are really coming to the fore now.

"If we can have a decent end to the season and just push and threaten the top six I will be delighted because I know with two or three additions to what we've got next season we could have a right go to try and play at Championship level every week.

"My first priority is to get 50 points and then beyond that is making sure we can push as close to the top six as possible."

Appleton added that the win over the Magpies is the biggest of his career, despite beating Arsenal at the Emirates as Blackburn Rovers manager in 2013's FA Cup.

He added: "When I say it is probably a bigger achievement for me beating Newcastle today than it was beating Arsenal in the 5th round at the Emirates and as the only team to do it – that's how a big a game it was for us."

The former Portsmouth, Blackpool and Blackburn Rovers boss has won 67 of his 151 matches in charge of Oxford, giving him a 44 per cent win ratio.

He has also drawn 44 and lost 40 games in his time as Oxford United head coach.

Rafa 'we didn't take our chances, all credit to United for fighting'

OXFORD United were praised by a visibly downbeat Rafa Benitez after the U's reached the FA Cup 5th round for just the fifth time in the club's history.

Benitez apologised to the travelling Newcastle fans after his side capitulated to three-second half Oxford goals.

The former Liverpool, Chelsea and Real Madrid boss said he did not underestimate the Yellows and admitted Newcastle were not good enough.

It was a memorable victory for Oxford, with head coach Michael Appleton stating afterwards that he hopes to see his side challenge for promotion next year.

Responding to a question about whether the U's could compete in the Championship, former Champions League winner Benitez said: "Yes, if they play at that level, why not?"

The 56-year-old, who won the FA Cup with Liverpool in 2006, added: "We knew about Oxford's quality, we did our homework and we analysed almost everything.

"In the end, football is a game that you have to take your chances. We had our chances and we didn't take them."

The Spaniard's disappointment with his team's performance was clear to see.

He said: "We didn't take our chances in the first half, even missed a penalty and they took their chances.

"We didn't mark properly and we have to give credit to them because they were fighting for the result and we made too many mistakes."

He admitted he made multiple changes to protect his side's Championship starting 11 and to restate his concerns of a lack of back up in his squad. One of those changes was the inclusion of striker Aleksandar Mitrovic, who had a torrid time in front of goal, missing a hatful of chances – including a penalty.
